Asking a Question

To communicate remotely with the instructor during class, your computer needs to be equipped with a microphone. The instructor cannot guarantee to monitor the chatbox in real-time during the lesson, so asking questions by typing in the chatbox may not receive timely responses. However, all participants' mic will be muted at the beginning of each class session. Thus, before asking a question, you need to unmute your mic first.

Class Materials

All class materials will be available on D2L. I will go over the D2L webpages for the course during the first day of the class.

Virtual Office Hours

For any question that can be of interest to the whole class, you are encouraged to post the question in the respective forum topic in D2L. For questions that cannot be posted on the forums, you are very welcome to join the office hour. For an online meeting request, please ask for a Zoom link via email in advance.
